Dear Friends:

It is my great pleasure to send my official greetings for the Aleh Foundation's Annual Ladies' Luncheon and to offer my congratulations to those being honored today.

The Aleh Foundation's work to help children with special needs is truly admirable. Your wide range of specialized programs reaches out to address the specific physical, emotional, and developmental challenges faced by each child and helps them work to reach their full potential. The staff and administrators of the Aleh Foundation have crafted an impressive array of services designed to help these special children and their families, and in doing so, you have touched innumerable lives.

Please accept my best wishes for a successful event and my heartfelt congratulations for all your honorees.

With every good wish,

JOSEPH I. LIEBERMAN
United States Senator
